FATHERS, SONS EAT AND PLAY

"Biggest Ever" Dinner
Held Tuesday Night At
Federated Church Hall

The "hope that you may have the greatest Fathers' and Sons' dinner that you have ever had," as expressed in a letter from the Rev. Charles W. Null, at Healdsburg, appears to have been fulfilled, at least from a standpoint of attendance, at the annual dinner held Tuesday night at the Federated Church.

There were two hundred twenty-nine men and boys served at the dinner and this, according to the ladies who were in charge of the dinner, is the largest number "ever."

W. T. Henderson, chairman of the district Boy Scout Committee, under whose auspices the dinner this year was held, had written Rev. Null inviting him to be present at the dinner.

Former pastor of the Federated Church and during his residence here an active Boy Scout leader, Reverend Null replied expressing regret that he was unable to attend and also the hope that "you may have the greatest Father and Son dinner you have ever had."

Incidentally, the ladies "stole the show" for the evening, for if it hadn't been for their understanding of fathers and sons, someone might have been "shorted" at dinner time.

Reservations as reported in the paper totaled 157 and as reported to (Continued on page 4)

Growers' Unit Meets Sunday

3-Cent Assessment For Advertising Reported
Indefinitely Suspended

A special meeting of the county Fruit Growers' Protective League has been called to be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the court house for a discussion of that phase of the pear marketing act relating to local control of local markets for Bartlett's by size and grade.

Announcement of the Sunday meeting was made Wednesday by Homer Madden, who also reported the participation of a group of local growers in a conference Monday with Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock, at Sacramento, following which, at the request of the growers, the director agreed to suspend indefinitely the three-cent assessment which had been levied to support the pear advertising campaign.

Sharing in the meeting with the El Dorado County group were representatives from Placer, Lake and Solano Counties and the Sacramento River district.

El Dorado County men who attended the meeting included W. H. Kline, F. J. Frost, L. W. Wernett, John Walters, Albert Carlson, G. I. Akin, Walter Leavitt, Carl Vismann and Homer Madden.

Britain Will Triple Territorial Army

LONDON, (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that the territorial field army would be increased immediately to war time strength. Chamberlain revealed that the territorial field army would be almost tripled by an increase to 340,000 from the present strength of 130,000.

SOME OF THE WORLD'S FINEST TERRAIN is right here in El Dorado County, as the view above proves. The picture was taken recently by Ernst Oppenheimer, of Placerville, and looks across Devil's Basin from near the Lake of the Woods to the 10,000 foot summit of Pyramid Peak, showing the eastern slope of the peak. The region abounds with similar terrain equally desirable for winter sports activity.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVE IN GIRLS' CONFERENCE

Thirty-Three Represent E. C. H. S. At Annual Meeting Held Over Weekend At Richardson
Springs With Janis Ball As President

Richardson Springs near Chico was the scene March 25 and 26 for the largest delegation of girls in the history of the Y. M. C. A. conference work in Northern California, according to members of the Girls League at the high school, who report the meeting as follows:

This girls' conference is the only one of its kind and the girls are exceedingly lucky to be able to attend such an idealistic meeting. Five hundred and fifty girls and their leaders from over fifty high schools in the northern part of the state were attending.

A delegation of thirty-three left Placerville at five o'clock Saturday morning in a school bus, driven by Bill Shuman, and arrived at the Springs at nine. The morning was spent registering the other schools and decorating the dining room.

Conference opened with lunch with the president, Janis Ball, of Placerville, presiding. Her message summed up the theme, "Nuggets at the end of a life of service," and two student speeches, "Gold is Where You Find It," and "Jumping Claims," followed. Music inspired every delegate; songs were led by Lucille Cooper at all meetings, Mrs. Caroline Babb sang, and a Girls' Chorus from Chico High School also sang.

The most impressive of all was the "Indian Love Call," sung by the delegation in the beautiful setting that the mountains, covered with wild flowers and red buds, afforded. This can't help but be a lasting memory to every girl.

After lunch the girls were divided into fifteen discussion groups in which they discussed home relations. The girls are free to discuss among themselves any problem they might have in connection with the topic.

Following the discussion period were two hours for recreation. Many hiked; some went swimming; and others played tennis. The fellowship dinner was at six-thirty.

Two speeches "Staking Your Claim" and "Obstacles" were given by student speakers. Dr. Edna W. Bailey of Berkeley talked on "Nuggets in Social Life," in which she pointed out our social responsibilities in making this a better world. Her speech was followed by the presentation of a nugget by the E. C. H. S. Hostess Delegation to the man, Mr. Fred M. Duckels, of Sacramento. (Continued on Page 2)

PRORATE BILL IS TABLED

Hearing Held Tuesday
Before Senate Group
On Agriculture

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Economy siege guns were trained today on Gov. Culbert L. Olson's $557,000,000 biennial budget as assembly Republicans prepared scores of amendments to reduce state expenditures.

Debate on the budget bill was set as a special order of business for 2:30 p. m. but economy bloc leader Gerald C. Kepple, R. Whittier, conferred early with his colleagues on strategy to counteract the lower house democratic majority.

Agricultural interests were active on dual fronts as the senate agricultural committee refused to recommend a bill replacing the prorate act and an assembly labor-capital committee gave "do pass" action on a wages-hours bill with higher wage standards than the federal statute covering interstate commerce, but exempting agricultural labor.

The prorate repeal bill sponsored by Sen. Chris N. Jespersen, R. Atascadero, was laid on the table by the senate agricultural committee by a vote of seven to two.

Opposition to the entire prorate setup was led by George Schmeier, master of the State Grange, who charged the act had built up a "job-seeking protectorate," with some of (Continued on Page 4)

The vaudeville performance will start about nine o'clock, immediately following the first showing of the feature picture for the evening.

The three acts which qualified at the first preliminary on March 17 are: Walter Dondero and Betty Beatty, accordionists; Beverly May, acrobatic dancer; and Florence Baalke, piano soloist.

CALAVERAS POSSE HUNTS TOT, AGED 3, MISSING 4 DAYS

Tiny Daughter Of Amador County Couple Disappeared Saturday While Walking From Home Of Grandmother To Aunt's Residence

ANGELS CAMP, (AP)—Officers and volunteers renewed a search today for missing three-year-old Victoria Amaya, lost since Saturday in the rough, brush-covered mountains near here. It was feared she had tumbled into an abandoned mine shaft or prospect hole and died of exposure.

As the weary searchers began the fourth day of the hunt, they concentrated on the brushy area covered with old prospect holes and mine shafts, and gave little credence to the possibility the tiny child might have wandered to a nearby creek, fallen in and drowned.

A posse of 50 men went into the area after the child's disappearance from the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Louise Dutil, Victoria, described as small for her three years, had left her grandmother's house to walk a quarter of a mile to the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Dutil.

Although the houses are in sight of each other, the little girl had to go through thickets which have overgrown the mine shafts in the old Mother Lode area. It was feared she might have fallen into one and never been found.

There also was the possibility she might have been killed by mountain lions, but Sheriff Zwing of San Andreas said three days of searching had failed to yield any trace of torn (Continued on page 3)

The body is in the care of Memory Chapel and an announcement of plans for the funeral service awaits the outcome of efforts to communicate with relatives.

Mr. Cannon was a native of Georgia, born April 13, 1854, and came to this county in 1886. He was a widower and is reported by friends to have a surviving son.

He had been an inmate of the hospital from time to time for several years past and hospital records indicate his desire that a Mrs. J. M. Traummel, of Aurora, Georgia, be notified of his passing.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (U)—For more years than a man who likes to shake a stick at years could shake a stick at, accepted thinkers have said that tragedy was the basis of all true comedy.

I'm beginning to believe they are right. Else how in the world can you explain the laughs that the matching of Tony Galento with Joe Louis has produced.

From Seattle to Old Orchard, and from San Diego to Key West, sports followers have found a chuckle in the pitting of Tony against Joe for the world's heavyweight fighting championship.

Surely the laugh in the fight between Tony and Joe is founded on tragedy. Tony hasn't a chance. Fat, old, short of breath, awkward, he will walk into the ring against the young negro champion with no more chance of survival than a turkey has at Thanksgiving. He will go in there, under the bright lights as a fat fool doomed to destruction.

There is every chance that in one cruel round, or two cruel rounds, he will be permanently hurt or disabled.

The tragedy is, Tony Galento knows this. As a fighting man, as one who knows what it takes to be a champion, he more than anyone, realizes his shortcomings. He knows he can't hit with Louis, he knows he can't box with Louis. He knows he can't move about with Louis.

Galento will get knocked stiff and helpless for money. Fighting for years, Mr. Galento never yet has had a bout in which the attendance or the price of admission was sufficient to pay him real money. His bout with Louis will provide both. To be held during the world's fair, when the city of New York will be filled with thousands of persons anxious for a way to spend an evening and money, the fight is likely to draw upwards of a million dollars. Tony's cut will be enough to make up for the cuts Joe will give him. It will pay his rent for years, guarantee food for the family for a long, long time; and that's what he is fighting for.

In thinking about the helpless Galento walking out against Louis, I remembered what Jimmy Braddock said to me on the eve of his fight with the merciless hitter from Detroit.

In his training camp near Chicago, I sat and talked with Braddock and asked him if he really knew how hard the negro hit.

"Yeah, I know," Jim answered. "He hits harder than Dempsey, they tell me. But listen—do you think he can hurt me? Do you think a fist can hurt a man who has stood in a relief line to get milk for his baby? Do you think a punch on the jaw—and I don't care who throws it—can hurt as much as taking charity? Hell, nobody can hurt me any more."

Galento will walk out against Joe Louis ready to take all Joe can throw. He will walk out in the face of certain defeat because he wants the money for the ones dear to him. He'll get hurt. Hurt badly. That's a cinch.

And that's what we've been laughing at!

VACATION VISITORS ON FORESTS 4,562,100 LAST YEAR

The U. S. Forest Service today reported that 4,562,100 visitors went to the 18 national forests of California for recreation last year. An additional 4,773,400 motorists, horsemen and hikers visited the national forests of the state primarily to enjoy the forest scenery.

The recreational purposes of the visitors were classified as hunting, fishing, winter sports and other activities such as camping, picnicking and summer home occupancy. Hunters totaled 267,100; fishermen 790,500 and winter sports enthusiasts numbered 648,300. Regional Forester S. B. Shaw stated that the majority of these vacationists stopped at one or more of the 1000 improved free campgrounds in the national forests of the state.

Forest service tabulations did not include winter sports fans who have gone to the national forest snowfields since the first of January, 1939. Rangers have indicated that an unprecedented number of skiers and tobogganers were attracted to the snow country during the first three months of this year.

Show pointed out that 18 wilderness areas covering more than two million acres of land in rugged mountain regions of California are being preserved in their primitive state where outdoor men and women may come and go in a wilderness environment bound only by minimum regulations necessary to preserve the primitive conditions for all time.

The federal forester also reported that the Forest Service is managing four intensively used recreation areas covering more than 100,000 acres of scenic lands and four natural areas protected in a primitive condition for research and scientific study, educational and historical interest.

MADRID (U)—Republican Spain crumbled today and the nationalists took over every large city as the war was officially proclaimed over. Valencia, third largest city, fell 24 hours after Madrid. In rapid succession, the nationalist Falangists took over such key towns as Ciudad Real, Cuenca, Murcia, Almeria, Alicante, Guadalajara, Jaen, Albacete, and the naval base at Cartagena.

Banbury Tarts

"The Queen of Hearts, she made some tarts, All on a summer's day. The Knave of Hearts, he stole those tarts. And with them ran away."

On account of this clever bit of advertising, shops in the town of Banbury, Oxfordshire, England, have sold these pleasing tid-bits continuously for more than three hundred years.

To make Banbury Tarts, fill pastry shells with a sauce made by combining one cup each of currants or raisins, chopped nuts and sugar; the juice and rind of one lemon; one egg; one tablespoon of melted butter and one tablespoon of water. Bake.

ficials paid as high as $1000 a month.

He proposed setting up a surplus control system under the state marketing act, in line with a resolution adopted by 250 Grange members, but we are against the political machinations of the prorate commission," he said.

The committee's action indicated that rather extensive modification of the production control plan could be expected.

Opponents of the repeal bill—favoring continuation of prorate—were led by Von T. Ellsworth, of the state Farm Bureau Federation. Speakers suggested that the wrongs charged to the act itself were possibly merely due to the mechanics of its operation and could be corrected. They denied contentions of the other group that prices under the prorate were lower than before.

Gov. Culbert L. Olson lent his support to those seeking modification of the act, saying before the Grange meeting:

"The prorate principle probably is good but you have a protest coming unless the law serves a better purpose than it has in the past. You can't have prorate controlled by those in league with the processors and have the dirt farmer get anything."

New Champion Introduced

Dealer Collins And County Men Attend Meeting At San Francisco Monday

The Studebaker "Champion", a new model offered this year in the lighter car "all three" class, was given a preview showing at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, attended by approximately 350 dealers, salesmen, civic leaders and representatives of the press of Northern California.

The Champion, it is expected, will be unveiled by all Studebaker dealers in the northern part of the state on April 20 for general public showing at their showrooms.

The meeting was addressed by various officials of the Studebaker Company on the Pacific Coast concerning the research and experimentation which resulted in development of the new car, in which comfort and convenience with economy and safety are stressed.

Motion pictures showed various processes in the manufacture of the Champion and also showed the breath-taking thrills of the grueling test of the car on the Studebaker proving grounds.

The Studebaker Company declares it is almost impossible to upset the Champion and that they have built into the car many of the best features of the Studebaker Commander, which they will continue to manufacture in its price field.

The Champion will sell at a price in competition with other cars of the same price field and demonstration cars are being issued to dealers as rapidly as production facilities permit.

C. S. Collins, El Dorado County Studebaker dealer, was accompanied to San Francisco by Jack Fraser and son, Dale Mart, Pete Garrick, H. E. Higgins, Lester McKenzie and C. E. Barker, all of whom attended the meeting and had opportunity to inspect the car at the preview showing.

$50,000,000 TRIMMED FROM WPA BUDGET BILL IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, (UP) — The full house appropriations committee, calling for economies in WPA administration, today reported an additional $100,000,000 relief bill, $50,000,000 below the appropriation urgently requested by President Roosevelt.

Economies effected in WPA administration since the first of the year, combined with an unexpended balance of relief funds found to have been on hand Jan 31, will make the additional $100,000,000 sufficient to effectuate Mr. Roosevelt's program of caring for the jobless until June 30, the committee stated.

POWER FIRM PRESIDENT CITES GREAT INCREASE IN TAXES IN REPORT ON BUSINESS OF CONCERN DURING PAST YEAR

Gross operating revenues of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in 1938 amounted to $101,424,595, an increase of $981,479, or one per cent over the preceding maximum established in 1937. This gain, while moderate, may be regarded as reasonably satisfactory in view of the marked contraction in general business activity throughout the nation in the first half of the year. The Company's earnings were also adversely affected by a sharp decline in agricultural power sales, and by a reduction of $2,026,000 annually in gas rates placed in effect April 1, 1938.

Operating expenses and taxes (excluding Federal income taxes) and annual appropriations for depreciation and other reserves amounted to $47,443,976, or $1,544,063 more than in 1937. By far the greater part of this increase was due to additional taxation. "In the period from 1930 to 1938," says President James B. Black in his annual report to stockholders, "total taxes payable by all companies now included in our system increased from $9,201,000 to $17,081,000, a growth of 85 per cent, or more than five times the relative increase of 16 per cent in gross operating revenues. The increase in taxes in the twelve months under review was more than double the gain in gross revenues, the difficulty of continuing to reduce rates under such conditions is apparent."

Taxes of all kinds in 1938 absorbed about one-sixth of total gross revenue from all sources, exceeded the full year's wages and salaries of the Company's 8,500 operating employees, and were equivalent to $2.75 per share of common stock.

Spring Merry-Making

Whether it be Easter, Whitsuntide, or some other religious or pagan festival, most people of this winter-weary old earth make holiday celebration at some set date in the Spring. Rustic dances, perhaps lasting for two or three days, the ringing of cow bells, the sporting of new clothes, jaunting in decorated carts, marriages galore — these are some of the modes of expressing joy in the change of weather and the fresh optimism of spring-time.

It was an old time custom in Russia to have the "woman show" every spring, when marriageable girls, dressed in their best and decked out with their most alluring ornaments, paraded before the village in the hope of attracting a husband.

The spring flare cannot be suppressed even in our machine age, but expresses itself in raking the yard, polishing the golf sticks, sending flowers to a beloved, scanning the seed catalogue, buying a new hat of a new auto, and cleaning house.

Fashion, Fads, Foibles

Pleats, pleats, pleats — all the way around the skirt, a pleated yoke at the shoulder line, and pleats for trimming anywhere else. Pleats are the season's highlights.

The newest and the oldest thing one can choose for the spring outfit is a navy suit. Our grandmothers began their wardrobe with this conservative utility and it is the best bet for the latest social bud of today. With it milady of 1939 will wear a navy hat, navy gloves, navy shoes and carry a navy bag — but she will vary her foundation ensemble with blouses of different cut, quality, design and color to make the suit suitable for every type of occasion, from nine in the morning until midnight. There has been some hint that manufacturers are to give us navy blue stockings to complete our blues, but so far Madame Grundy prefers copperish shades of hose.

Dull-tones, heavy silks will follow the suit parade and the procession will march into summer with fluffy ruffles of sheer fabrics for hot evenings, crisp linens for day time and innumerable gay tub fabrics for home mornings, the office or shop.

Hot Cross Buns

"One a penny, two a penny Hot Cross Buns."

Good Friday is the day to serve them and here is how to make them: Combine one cup scalded milk, one-fourth cup sugar, two tablespoons fat and cool to lukewarm, then add a yeast cake which has been softened in one-fourth cup of warm water. Sift together three cups flour, a half teaspoon each of salt, and cinnamon and add to the first mixture. To this add a well beaten egg, a teaspoon of grated lemon rind and a half cup of currants or seedless raisins.

Cover the resulting dough and let rise until light. Shape into buns and place about an inch apart in a baking pan. When light, brush the tops with beaten egg, bake un-

Father, Sons Eat And Play

The committee in charge were 161. But the wives of the fathers and mothers of the sons knew their "boys" better than that, and so they prepared for about 230 for dinner; — and they served 229.

The program for the night was essentially for fun, and after dinner the first number was a group of selections by a Boy Scout orchestra directed by Charles W. Ball. Although the organization had only two opportunities for practice, they pleased the large audience and the musicians and their leader were given a big hand.

District Chairman Henderson then called upon Dr. L. B. Rantz, a member of the district committee, through whose courtesy the meeting was entertained by "The Mysterious Fay and Lady Ellen," with tricks and sleight-of-hand stunts which were mystifying and entertaining for all of the "boys" from six to sixty.

Then Mr. Henderson presented Attorney Summer Mering, of Sacramento, for many years a leader in boys' work in his home community and a member of the Golden Empire Area Council Boy Scout committee.

Mr. Mering commended the community for its interests in boys' work and spoke of the many excellent results in this field which are capable of attainment through arranging such functions as the annual Fathers' and Sons' dinner.

Noting the presence of a large number of Boy Scouts of the county who attended, with their Scoutmasters, in uniform, Mr. Mering told the fathers present something of the Boy Scout organization and of the voluntary work done by leaders in Scouting which helps to make Scouting possible for the boys of the United States.

Of course, the organization requires some financial support, too, but not nearly so much under the plan of volunteer leadership as it would require if all of the Scout leaders demanded pay for their work.

Fortunately, he said, all over the Nation, men are interested in helping boys to become worthy men and the result is that Scouting and other boys' work have become a national community activity eliciting widespread public support.
